MY EXPERIENCE IN BILBAO, SPAIN

I'm always truly passionate and excited to learn new cuisines, new cooking styles and techniques, discover new cultures, meet chefs from other countries, and explore different recipes and menus, which is why I really appreciated the opportunity what was given to us. Especially, because Spain has one of the diverse cuisines in the world what is full of flavours and tastes.

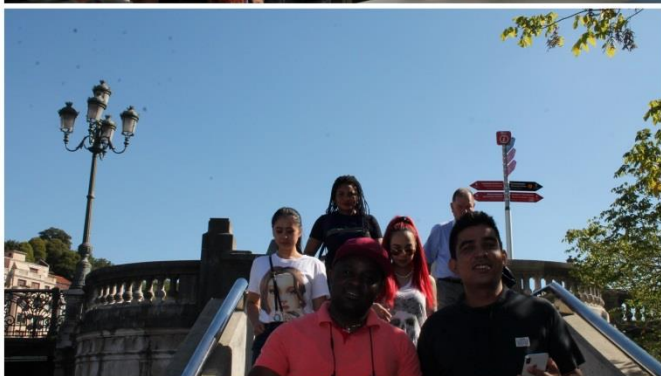

During our internship we were working on the same menu for 2 weeks, what was introduced to us by Spanish students. We learned the basics of Spanish traditional and authentic way of cooking by using the locally grown ingredients.

As a final work, we prepared the 3 course meal based on our learning experience. We used our knowledge about the typical Finnish cuisine and cooking style and used it with a twist of Spanish cuisine.

I had a positive overall experience and believe the things I learned in Spain will be useful in my future.

Here are some photos showing our experience in Spain.
